Dear Professor Fan,

On behalf of Hong Kong Baptist University (HKBU), I would like to offer my warmest congratulations to Shandong University on the landmark occasion of its 120th anniversary.

Over the years, Shandong University's commitment to providing quality education and achieving ground-breaking research has been widely recognised. Driven by its mission to pursue academic excellence, Shandong University has nurtured successive generations of talents in a wide variety of disciplines and made a series of noteworthy contributions to the nation.

At HKBU, we value our relationship with Shandong University profoundly, and I look forward to exploring further opportunities for fruitful collaboration in academic exchange and research between our universities.

I wish you and your staff, students and alumni the absolute best on this most special of occasions, and I hope that the SDU Global Partners' Week is a resounding success.

Yours sincerely,

Ping-kong Alexander Wai
